WELL CELL

About

A walk through your personal member page, the available functions and a guide on how to configure the main settings and features to have your profile page to perform at best..

Summary

WELL CELL

The member profiles are fully customizable so you can give your profile a unique look including changing the cover photo aspect ratio, profile photo shape and much more. The profile header also includes a member bio area where members can write a short description about themselves.You can choose to show social icons on your profile card on the directory. These social icons are linked to the social fields in the pre-defined field list. All Members can easily manage their own accounts directly from the front-end of our site.

The Privacy tab allows members to control their profile's privacy. Members can make their profile private and they can also hide their profile from showing in member directories.

Profile
Completeness

WELL CELL

What is it

With the profile completeness extension we encourage members to complete their profiles. This is one of the best ways for a member to ensure other members engages. An empty profile will not show who you are and what you like and will not yield new followers and friends.

Key Features

- Display profile fields a member has yet to complete and progress bar via sidebar widgets
- Members can complete profile fields via pop-up anywhere on site or can go to profile to complete the fields
- Each field contributes to completion (e.g gender is worth 5%, country is worth 10%)
- Widgets disappear once a member completes their profile
- Display profile progress bar on the sidebar

NOTE
Verified Members should have their profile completeness overall score no lower than 65%.
